Skynnex AV is your go-to destination for all things Bang & Olufsen, specialising in preowned and preloved audio products, televisions, and telephones. With a commitment to exceptional service, we strive to meet the unique needs of every customer. When you choose us, you can expect a personalised experience with each product being thoroughly tested for up to a day to ensure it is in perfect working condition. If repairs are needed, we take the products to our trusted B&O service centre, using only authentic parts to give you peace of mind. In addition to sales, we offer a range of services including installation tailored to your specific requirements, efficient removal and relocation and expert repairs and refurbishments. Want to make your B&O products truly yours? We help with customisation, offering a variety of finishes and materials to fit your home.
